Course Expectations

Flexibility

The syllabus is an outline of baseline policies for the course, however there will be flexibility within these policies at the instructor's discretion.

The instructor will be able to provide exceptions to policies and assignment guidelines only if communication is established by the student. The instructor reserves the right to discretion on which exceptions will be granted.

Collaboration

All work completed for this course is expected to be completed by the individual, unless otherwise stated. Two or more entities working on the same project not specified as group work will be considered cheating at the instructor's discretion.

- Assisting other students in their understanding of the material to help them understand the approach to solve a problem is not against policy. Giving them the solution, or writing it for them is.
- Utilizing AI language models to generate code for you is cheating. An AI can help you learn the material, but it shouldn't solve problems for you.
- If a technique or approach feels like cheating, it would likely be best to avoid it. If you understand the material and are able to apply it to other projects without assistance, then it is likely not cheating, and likely resides in the domain of learning.
- If there are any questions, feel free to email me at any time.

Late Work

Late work will result in a 0 for the assignment. Exceptions shall be made at the instructor's discretion.

Students are encouraged to start on assignments early. Extensions requested 24 hours before the due date or more will be given high priority.

Homework Submissions

Homework submissions will be graded as is, and resubmissions will not be accepted. Please be sure to double check your work before turning it in.

Professionalism

Projects in this course may include a degree of freedom in choosing the content/topics presented within them. In preparing for a career, professionalism with content choice is an important area of focus.

Projects including unprofessional topics will be docked 20-100% depending on the severity, and at the instructor's discretion. Intent and context will also be considered.

If a student's work is to be presented in class, the instructor reserves the right to suspend a presentation for the content shown.

Content that should be considered unprofessional includes, but is not limited to:

- Violence/gore/viscera
- Illicit substances
 - Non-prescription drugs
 - Alcohol
 - Non-prescription stimulants
- Content of a pornographic nature

- Content that harasses or discriminates against a person or group of people
- Slurs or slang commonly considered inappropriate

In summary, please try to keep content appropriate for a PG rating. We are all (hopefully) adults, but we are also professionals. Professionalism doesn't have to be boring, but it does have to be mature in the way that it handles content.

Classroom Policies

Cautions:

- No food/gum
 - (Due to possible instructor/student sensitivities)
- Drinks should have a closed top and be quiet
 - (Please do not rumble ice around, screech straws against the lid, etc)
- Trash should be thrown in the trash can before exiting the room
- Students should avoid disrupting the education of others during lecture time
- During non lecture time, noise level should be kept to a level that does not disrupt other students and other classes in nearby rooms

Students have a right to communicate disruptions to education, lectures, and work time. I encourage students to communicate with other students and/or to myself to resolve issues.

If you wish to remain anonymous to your peers and have me resolve the issue, feel free to email me and I can resolve issues.

Feel free to do the following, as long as you are not disrupting others:

- Sit wherever you want
- Move the chairs
- Raise your hand to stop me in the middle of a lecture
 - (Your question may be something that everyone is thinking)
- Switch seats during class
 - (If you do, please be quick and quiet if you can)

Institutional Policies

Course Subject to Change

The syllabus is a statement of intent and schedule of topics, activities, assessments, and requirements as well as an overall road map to ensure students will achieve both the course learning objectives and the program-level learning objectives.

The scheduled educational activities are subject to change with reasonable advance notice to students by either the instructor or academic administration. The grading and attendance policies are not subject to change once posted.

Students wishing to appeal changes to a course syllabus must first do so in writing to their instructor. If a successful resolution is not achieved after submitting the written appeal, the student has the option to file a written appeal to the appropriate Associate Dean of Curriculum and Instruction or Dean of Curriculum and Instruction. If the second level appeal does not result in a resolution, the student can submit a final appeal to the Vice President of Academic Affairs. The review and final decision of the Vice President of Academic Affairs is final and not subject to appeal.

Attendance

Administrative Withdraw for Non-Attendance

Students are expected to attend all sessions of courses for which they are enrolled. Absences do not excuse the student from meeting course requirements. Each instructor will evaluate the student's progress to determine how to handle outstanding assignments and assessments. Students attending 16 week courses who have a record of zero attendance for fourteen (14) calendar days will be administratively withdrawn from the course(s) the absence is occurring, resulting in a grade of "W" for the course. Students attending courses of less than a 16 week duration, who have a record of zero attendance for seven (7) calendar days will be administratively withdrawn. Students who receive financial aid may have their financial aid status affected. More information is located in the Southeast Tech Catalog \(https://catalog.southeasttech.edu/index.php\):

Course Recording Statement

Delivery of some courses at STC allows flexible participation options for students in time and location. Courses may be made available to properly enrolled students who are not physically in the classroom, and/or a time delayed recording made available to all properly enrolled students. In addition to instructional content, remote delivery may include capture of all classroom audio and visual happenings during designated class times, including that of students who may be part of the class, but who are not physically in the classroom. By remaining in classes capturing audio and visual happenings, you are agreeing to this statement.

Student Learning Outcomes

Student success is important to Southeast Tech faculty, and all faculty are involved in assessing student learning. Upon graduation, Southeast students will have competence in the following four common learning outcomes:

Technical Skills: Students will be able to explain industry-relevant concepts (knowledge) and demonstrate industry-relevant technical skills (performance).

Communication: Students will be able to define the purpose of the communication; organize and structure the communication; provide supporting material; demonstrate precision of language; and professionally deliver and format the communication.

Problem Solving & Critical Thinking: Students will be able to define the problem; analyze the problem; generate solutions; evaluate solutions; and select the best solution.

Professionalism: Students will be able to demonstrate positive work ethic; collaborate as part of a team; adapt to change; adhere to professional standards; and model integrity and ethics.

Students attending Southeast Technical College are expected to follow policies and requirements in the Southeast Technical College Student Handbook: STC Student Handbook \(https://catalog.southeasttech.edu/index.php\). In addition, some departments have academic handbooks for their areas that outline expected student conduct.

Southeast policies authorize the Vice President of Academic Affairs to suspend or terminate any student from the college for misconduct as outlined in the rules of this policy. The following student misconduct shall constitute grounds for student discipline, suspension, or termination when such activity occurs on school grounds, in the online course environment or during an educational function under the auspices of the school board: acts of dishonesty, including cheating and plagiarism or other forms of dishonesty relating to academic achievement such as the misuse of technology, software, apps, or other computer-assisted or artificial intelligence in violation of individual course or assignment policies as defined by instructors.

ADA and Accessibility Services

It is the policy and practice of Southeast Technical College and the instructor of this course to act with integrity, engage in equitable conduct with respect to differences in age, gender, race, disability, and religion, and to create inclusive and accessible learning environments consistent with federal and state laws. In accordance with Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, and the Americans with Disabilities Amendment Act of 2008, Southeast Technical College ensures that no student with a disability will be discriminated against or denied access to participate in, or benefit from, programs, services and activities. All students are encouraged to discuss access-related needs with their instructors and the Accessibility Services Office as soon as possible in their academic career.

Freedom of Speech

Southeast Tech strives to create an environment in which diverse opinions can be expressed and heard. Students have the right to peacefully express their views and opinions, regardless of whether others may disagree, but not in such a way as to interfere with the rights of others or the operation of the college. Views expressed should not violate any of Southeast Tech policies or core values.

Southeast Technical College students are both citizens and members of the Southeast Tech community. Students should enjoy the same freedom of speech, peaceful assembly, and right to petition that other citizens enjoy and should abide by the obligations and expectations as members of the Southeast Tech community.

Notice of Nondiscriminatory Policy

Southeast Tech is committed to a policy of equal opportunity for all in every aspect of its operations. Southeast Tech does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, creed, religion, age, gender (including pregnancy), sexual orientation, disability, national origin or ancestry, military/veteran status, genetic information, or any other category protected by law in its educational programs, admissions policies, employment policies, financial aid, or other institute-administered programs. Title IX/Sexual Misconduct/Sexual Assault/Sexual Offense

Southeast Tech is committed to providing a learning and working environment free of unlawful harassment based on an individual's race, color, religion, creed, ancestry, national origin, gender, sexual orientation, disability, age, protected military/veteran status, genetic information or any other basis protected by law. Concerns may be reported directly to this individual in person, by calling 605-367-4670, or by emailing Brett.Arenz@k12.sd.us. Sexual Misconduct

Southeast Tech is committed to providing a learning and working environment that emphasizes the dignity and worth of every member of its community, free from discriminatory conduct. Sexual harassment in any form or context is contrary to this commitment and will not be tolerated. Sexual harassment subverts the mission and the work of Southeast Tech and can threaten the career, educational experience, and well-being of students, faculty, and staff.

Southeast Tech recognizes that sexual harassment includes harassment based on gender, sexual orientation, gender identity, or gender expression and may occur regardless of the formal position or status of each person involved. Sexual harassment is especially offensive, however, when it occurs in relationship between an instructor and student or between supervisor and subordinate. In those situations, sexual harassment exploits unfairly the power inherent in the position of the faculty member or supervisor.

Sexual harassment also constitutes a form of sexual discrimination that is illegal under Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Title IX of the Elementary/Secondary Education Act of 1972, as amended, and state law. Southeast Tech also recognizes that sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking may also be considered sexual harassment.

Students have the right to be free of sexual misconduct while pursuing their education at Southeast Tech which would include participating in any off-campus activity such as internships, clinical experiences, and preceptor experiences.

Students should immediately report any form of sexual misconduct to their instructor or the designated contact at Southeast Tech.
